

DEBIT/CREDIT CARD DISPUTE

If there is a charge on your account that you did not authorize, do not recognize or has posted more than once, please contact the Merchant first to try to resolve it with them before submitting a dispute. When contacting the Merchant, please write down date, time, who you spoke with, confirmation #(s) and details of the conversation. If Merchant, states that they will refund, you need to allow them 30 days to do so (usually they will refund within 10 business days, but by law, they have 30 days). If merchandise is involved, it must be returned with tracking# and allow the merchant 30 days to refund. If you cannot resolve it with the Merchant, then you can submit a dispute including any documentation to support dispute. If the transaction is local, you must notify the police and supply us with a copy of the police report or the report number. Only the person whose name is on the debit/credit card can dispute the transaction(s).
